Life Group Weekly Highlight: Financial Peace by Dave Ramsey

Last year I was able to apply for a Seminary Debt Grant program through the North Carolina Annual Conference. As part of the requirements, we had to participate in a financial education program. Leslie and I had discussed this and decided with the time we had before the application was due that this course was the best way to go. What a blessing the class was for us to help navigate becoming debt free and better stewards of the gifts God has entrusted us with. I thought I had a good grasp on our finances and a good plan but what I learned was life-changing. Maybe you are in chaos with regards to your finances and are looking to experience financial peace in your life if so join us for a 9-week journey that will provide you tools and resources that will make that financial peace a reality in your life. Join us on this life-changing journey to financial peace.
